

Training Courses for the Rider – 2019.

You recently expressed interest in learning more about the Flair Air Flocking System and WOW saddles

We hold a number of courses at our workshops in Canterbury during the year and courses are varied in content according to the experience of those attending. In addition to the theory and practice of adjustment of both Flair and WOW in the classroom we have horses of a variety of shapes to enable us to be able to discuss different conformations and the effect on saddle fitting. Saddle fitting and Flair adjustments will be carried out in a covered area and an indoor arena.

The course is aimed at riders wishing to adjust their own saddles, not for those wishing to make saddle fitting adjustments commercially, where you would be subject to liability laws.

Course places are very limited to ensure everyone has the ability to work on saddles and with the horses, and are available on a first come, first served basis. The course fee is £150.00 to include lunch. Securing a place on the course requires a completed booking form and a non-returnable deposit of £75.00.

Training Course Contents

The object of the courses is to give the rider confidence to change head plates, flaps and panels on a WOW saddle and to understand how the Flair system works so they are able to adjust it if they wish.

We will discuss the correct fitting of the saddles in terms of head plate, tree, panels and girthing and we will discuss saddle fitting issues and common problems and misconceptions.

Then we will move on to the use of Flair to balance the saddle front to back and side to side, if required.

One Day Courses during 2019 are on the following dates:

Friday 8th February
Friday 31st May
Friday 5th July
Friday 25th October
Friday 13th December

General Information About All Courses

We start at 9.00am prompt. You will receive a numbered certificate after each of the courses.

Location, Food and Accommodation!

Our workshops and office are about six minutes' drive from the City of Canterbury in Kent in a very rural area. We will be working in a classroom environment and then in the indoor school. You will be working around horses so must wear appropriate footwear and clothing.

We supply lunch to those on the courses. Please advise if you have any special dietary requirements or are allergic to anything. Evening meals if needed, can be taken at a choice of local pubs (£10.00+) or in the centre of Canterbury where cuisine from most nationalities is available.

Accommodation is available in either "Bed and Breakfast" (Approx. £35.00 - £80.00 pp/night) or hotels (varies £) either in the local countryside or in the centre of Canterbury. We can provide contacts. If you are accompanied by partners, Canterbury offers excellent shopping, cinemas, art galleries etc as well as secluded country walks, bicycle rides and golf courses and is well known as a lovely place to take a holiday!
